

What level of safeguarding training is needed?

Below is a list of key roles within the church community.

The training must be renewed every four years; this only applies to the highest level of safeguarding training required.

Everyone must attend Foundation Module once. However, for roles that then require completion of the Advanced Module, this must be completed within 6 months of starting in the applicable role. Renewing training will then only be at the higher, Advanced Module level until the individual is no longer in an applicable role, when training requirements will be reviewed.

Recognition of Church of England and URC Training

The Methodist Church recognises the Church of England and United Reformed Church (URC) safeguarding training as equivalent to the Foundation and Advanced Modules. Therefore, those who have undertaken the Church of England or URC courses at the appropriate level will have satisfied attendance requirements listed above for the Methodist Church.
