

Good Morning,

Counter Terrorism Policing are offering a new round of personal security briefings delivered on Microsoft teams, week commencing 4th December for locally elected representatives as well as local faith leaders following increased concerns arising out the events in Israel and Gaza (see attached). Whilst the personal security briefings are broken down into geographical areas and are delivered locally, you are welcome to attend any session.

As before, whilst there has been a significant increase in reporting of hate crimes and incidents, at this time, we have no information to suggest that there is a heightened threat to locally elected representatives or their staff, nor for faith communities, including those from the Jewish faith. This is under continual review and should there be any change this will be circulated to you.

As a precautionary measure we have compiled below a range of open source advice and guidance on safety and security for reassurance and ease of reference, to be disseminated to locally elected representatives and faith leaders. Should other individuals outside these groups ask for advice this can of course be shared with them. In particular I would like to draw your attention to the free ACT e-Learning counter terrorism awareness course for you and your staff to complete and the The Blue Book: A Guide to Personal Security | ProtectUK.

Reporting an emergency - Call 999 if you are reporting a crime that is in progress or if someone is in immediate danger.

Reporting non-emergencies – you can Report crimes online or by calling 101 if they are not an emergency.

You can also call 101 to give information to the police or make an enquiry.

In addition, you can also link in with your local neighbourhood Inspector to discuss any concerns you have. We have asked local policing leads to ensure your local policing Inspector makes contact with you so that you have their contact details.
